Dr. J. C. Williams Re-arrested on That Money Order Deal.

CHARGE IS EMBEZZLEMENT

Accused of Using $100 of Mrs. Monroe's Cash.

Dr. J. C. Williams, who got into so much trouble last December over a post office money order which belonged to Hattie Monroe, was re-arrested yesterday afternoon on a state warrant, charging him with embezzlement. Marshal Schadt found Dr. Williams on North Main street and took him to the county jail. His bond was fixed at $200, which he said he would be able to give today if he could get word to his family, who live in the country.

The information filed against Williams by the state is to the effect that he has willfully and maliciously embezzled the proceeds of a United States money order for $100 which he was acting as agent and holder of Hattie M. Monroe in this city last December. The order was issued from the Wichita postoffice and made payable to Hattie M. Monroe at Kansas City, Mo., she having gone there from Wichita to reside. It seems that she had sold some property here and come into possession of some money. It is said that Dr. Williams persuaded her that the safest way to transport the money to Kansas City would be to first go to her and leave a money order with him subject to her command and he would send it to her there. She did so, purchasing the money order here. The original order was then given to Dr. Williams. It is said, to send to her when she should need the money. Instead of sending it to her it is reported that he went to Kansas City and taking another woman to represent the payee, they went to the postoffice and endorsed the original and the duplicate order and secured the $100. The Monroe woman claims that she has never been able to get the money from Williams, although she has repeatedly demanded the same. Williams was arrested by the Federal authorities, but it was impossible to find the woman who, it is alleged, went with him to cash the money order, and so the case was dropped. The Federal authorities insisted at the time, however, that it was properly a state case instead of a federal one. Mr. James E. Deane, being Williams' attorney, it is said, could not very well represent the state against his own client, and so the case was dropped and Dr. Williams soon afterwards left the city. He returned a few days ago very haughty over his victory over his alleged enemies here. As soon as he was located in the city proceedings were begun on the charge of embezzlement, and it is said a very strong case can be made against the doctor along this line.

GRAFT AND GRAFTERS

Street Fair Brings a Multitude of Them to Wichita.

"Grafters to the right and grafters to the left—grafters, grafters," was an exclamation of one of the leading merchants of the city yesterday. "Just as soon as it was decided that there was to be a Street Fair here I have been bothered and tormented with all kinds of people with all kinds of schemes—programs, official papers, weekly special editions, booklets, pamphlets and folders and I can't tell now what, but people from Kansas City and Omaha are here trying to graft. I don't know why we should be held up in any such a way. Because I am quite a liberal advertiser in the daily papers of Wichita, and, by the way, it is in my opinion, one which I have learned by experience, the only medium for city merchants to reach the people and get actual results, and I have long since quit all this outside advertising foolishness and put all my appropriation for advertising in the two dailies. There are a lot of schemes—schools, colleges, churches, societies of many and all sorts constantly working the merchants for advertisements. I turn them all down and give my contributions to all these commendable things in cash and am free to make my own selection as to the best advertising medium. But as a rule I notice that the largest merchants' names in the city are seldom seen in these fake arrangements—fake I call them, because the most of them are, and even some of them so far as to threaten a boycott of this institution or that one if not given an ad. That is all bosh, however. I have proven to a certainty that the daily paper is the only real medium for advertisers. I could not do business without them. In fact, I don't think I could try. Really, I don't know what I would do if I could not reach the people every morning with something they want in a bargain or something that they want. There is no legitimate reason why Wichita merchants should be called upon to contribute to these non-sensational propositions; throw away good money and get no return. They had far better use the only good medium that exists, and which I consider first-class, and in doing so they not only get value received for their money, but they assist in making this medium stronger constantly, thereby helping each other in a business-like and legitimate way. But I have talked too long already. There will still be grafters, and there will still be people

BOUGHT AT WRONG END

Missouri Buys a 5-Cent Watermelon to Take to Pratt County.

Mr. Simon Rose of Sunberry, Mo., stopped in the city all day yesterday on his way to visit relatives in Pratt county. He was particularly attracted by the watermelons on sale here, and their surprising cheapness. He bought a nickel melon to take out with him, and about train time when he went carrying it to the train he was the subject for a great laugh by the spectators. The melon was all he could carry from the depot to the train. The funny part of it is that he paid a nickel for the melon in Wichita and when he gets to Pratt county he will find that he could have bought two for a nickel.

FAMILY OF CYCLISTS

Park Massey's Children are Adepts on Wheels.

Assistant Chief Massey is getting a good supply of bicycles at his house. A few days ago two of his sons took home new bicycles, and when their younger sisters wanted to learn to ride the boys objected, for fear the little girls would break the wheels. Mr. Massey is so big and kind hearted that after the boys left on their wheels he told Mrs. Massey that he would just fool the boys, and he went up town and purchased wheels for the little girls. Then the boys wanted to borrow the wheels to take their girls out riding but were promptly and tangibly refused. In this way they got even. One of the little girls learned to ride her wheel in ten minutes.

APPLES AND PEARS

Ed Blood's Team Ran Away Scattering Fruit Everywhere.

A team belonging to Edward Blood became frightened at a paper blowing in the street in front of Tapp's store yesterday and ran away. The wagon was loaded with fruit, including a lot of apples and pears which Mr. Blood had brought in from the farm to market. He left the team standing loose in front of Tapp Bros. & Hanshaw's store, and there was no possible chance to stop them after they began to run. They ran up Main street and turned west on Third street, scattering apples and pears everywhere along the route, which the boys picked up eagerly. The team was not stopped until they had gotten almost out of town, but nothing serious resulted from the spirited runaway.

SHOW WINDOW SCENE

Herman & Hess Set the Pace for Street Fair Exhibits.

Herman & Hess, with the enterprise characteristic of this popular clothing store, set their big front show window ablaze last night with the most artistic and brilliant arrangement imaginable. No city or mercantile house in America can boast anything to surpass the brilliant beauty of the hat window, showing a flowered lily in front of a big mirror, the glitter of which light shone away by the rich and quiet color of moss roses, carnations and cypripediums. In the copper case in front a harp covered with flowers swept up out of a bed of violets and reached into the beauty of perfection that drifted from the east window, a street fair and booth scene.

NO MORE DRIVING

Through Main or Market Street Occupied by Street Fair.

Archibald Burnett, who is in charge of the street fair work, will order the thoroughfares occupied by the booths closed to all traffic today, and no driving will be allowed through Main or Market street from today on until after the fair. The rest of the week will be taken up with fine decorative work, and the workmen cannot be bothered with vehicles and the dust arising therefrom. The street will be cleaned and all trash will be removed in time for the opening next Monday.

ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Odd Fellows Grand Encampment's 32 Annual Session.

MAYOR ROSS WELCOMES

Meeting of Grand Lodge Which Begins Today.

At an open meeting of the Odd Fellows' grand encampment last night Mayor Ross delivered an address of welcome.

The thirty-second annual session of the grand encampment convened in regular session yesterday morning in Odd Fellows' hall on Main street with Grand Patriarch W. H. Kemper of Horton in the chair. All the grand officers and a full quota of representatives were present.

The report of the committee on correspondence showed that the encampments of other jurisdictions, with but few exceptions, were in good condition.

For the first time in years the grand encampment had not an appeal before it, and the grievance committee called attention to this happy state of affairs.

An effort was made to change the time of meeting of the grand encampment from the second Tuesday in October to the second Tuesday in June, but after considerable discussion the matter was postponed and made a special order for consideration at next year's session.

The grand patriarch in future is instructed to visit delinquent and dormant encampments to try and revive them if possible, but if he is satisfied this cannot be done, he is empowered to take up the said encampment's charter.

Subordinate encampments are given permission to procure and wear what is known as the Royal Purple degree uniform on occasions of funerals and other street parades.

No changes were made in the minimum amount to be charged for degrees in the encampments, or in the yearly dues.

The grand patriarch is given power to authorize the removal or consolidation of encampments, if in their judgment it is wise to do so.

The order of succession in subordinate encampments is changed so that a patriarch must serve in the offices of senior warden and high priest before he is eligible to the office of chief patriarch.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Will J. Russell of Kansas City was chosen grand patriarch for the ensuing year by acclamation.

H. C. Stevens of Topeka, grand high priest by acclamation.

Thomas Dryden of Spring Hill, grand senior warden by acclamation.

For grand junior warden, A. M. Batn of Leavenworth, and T. C. Frazier of Coffeyville, were nominated, and A. M. Batn elected.

Ed. T. Rees of Leavenworth was re-elected grand scribe by acclamation.

T. C. Frazier of Coffeyville was elected grand treasurer by a unanimous vote, as was also W. H. Kemper of Horton for grand representative to the sovereign grand lodge.

The following appointments were made:

J. M. Flad of Frankfort, grand outside sentinel.

J. I. Sanders of Cheney, grand inside sentinel.

Lee Stafford of Lyons, grand marshal.

A. L. Voorhis of Topeka, grand instructor.

Ed. T. Rees of Leavenworth, team instructor.

Chairman judiciary committee, H. E. Pyle, Wichita.

States of the order, Dr. A. Kraus, Jewell.

Grievances and appeals, F. H. Betton, Pomeroy.

Printing, C. N. Baker, Wamego.

Semi-annual returns, William Peppworth, Oage City.

Correspondence, F. S. Stevens, Topeka.

Legislation, E. S. Stearns, Council Grove.

Finance, H. J. Aten, Hlawatha; F. W. Stackpole, Washington; G. W. Jones, Mount City.

Charters, F. P. Parsons, Wichita.

The grand encampment then adjourned sine die, to meet next year at the same time and place as the grand lodge.

BOOTH A SCENE OF SPLENDOR

The "Famous" brand of ham sausage, the "Rathman" brand of pressed ham, the "Clover Leaf" brand of perfected fine ham; in fact all the several grades of the best of abattoir products will be displayed at this artistically arranged exhibit. Added to this, there will be extended all through the day the most exquisite viands to the visiting public gratis. Expert caterers will be at attention to dispense to the throng hot biscuits, along with the many meat cuts and prepared specialties.
